

ANS Unimed Prize Application Form for 2017

This sponsorship is in the form of a £500 prize to encourage graduates to present their final year dissertation (BSc or M level) at the ANS Spring Scientific meeting and to also publish it in JANS. Applicants must be a full member of ANS.

Each presentation should aim to last 30minutes (including time for questions). The format required for publication in JANS is available from Sara Callen; JANS Editor. Sponsorship money will not be received until your work has been published in JANS. ANS will pay travel expenses to attend the ANS meeting that you present at, and the day delegate rate of the day that you present on. Any other expenses related to the meeting will need to be self funded.

Applications will be considered by a panel formed from ANS Council members. Applicants will be notified via e-mail of the outcome, the panel's decision will be final.
